

The Guy R Cook Report episode for today is the wrap up of the previous week's episodes of The Guy R Cook Report thanks to the patrons for supporting us and let's get to it on Monday we talked about losing Pinterest followers now they come to find out it wasn't really followers we're losing and let's look at that links some more to get the details on that go to The Guy R Cook Report dot podbean dot com that'll make it happen get you to the show notes the ways to win on Pinterest was the top topic for Tuesday and that one is if you're looking at other channels other venues with some great statistics you might explore Pinterest the infographics with canva was in episode one of the social media content ideas that I handed out from time to time is to create an infographic well canva could make that real real easy to do and there's the video and it shows you how to do that I think you're gonna like it how to get a free business account on Pinterest the reason you want to get a free business account is the stats the analytics afforded to the business account holders they're awesome and then scrolling down the show notes you can see we're available on Apple podcasts on tune-in on Google Play Music on Stitcher and SoundCloud and where else or you can get the feed from pod bean if you click on that link and you want to get the feed there's other episodes you can get from The Guy R Cook Report just click on that link and so in order to become a patron there's a little link down there on becoming a patron oh no, now it's up at the top yeah you get a one dollar reward for being a patron so if you're donating and the contribution is $1 a month and you get a dollar reward hey do the math follow me on Twitter is a feed that we've got there on the sidebar that shows the latest tweets that we've got the little avatar we've got for Twitter's been updated to that little bird face and I think that the graph here on the sides last week's episodes if you missed it another Friday wrap-up maybe there was an episode you wanted to find out about Google Authenticator okay well that's in there just take a look and so on that note I'm gonna say you have a great weekend I appreciate you taking time out of your day to listen.

It's a wrap